

Greetings,

Thank you for your interest in St. John's Youth Music Program. Children's unique voices communicate the beauty of purity and simplicity to all listeners. St. John's community values this precious gift.

Musical training for children is a gift of immeasurable value. Through quality music education in the loving and nurturing environment of St. John's, children learn to treasure this gift. The Royal School of Church Music's graded Voice for Life system marks their progress in music theory, music history, and vocal production with certifications and medals. By leading worship services, children have regular opportunities to apply what they have learned. The growth of their sound and confidence will not only be heard, but also felt by the whole community.

Each child holds a unique voice within. The value of realizing its beauty, and learning to contribute positively in the world, is immeasurable. The community of St. John's invites you to explore the opportunity we offer for your child.

Sincerely,

Jun Kim
